6. BETTER LIVES, BRIGHTER FUTURE

19 - 28

The Strategic Director, Health and Wellbeing will submit Document “E” which includes a presentation that provides a summary of the challenges and responses that mental health services across the Bradford District and Craven have faced following the Covid-19 pandemic.

The impact of the pandemic is still being realised and is being discussed at both a national and local level however, the national lockdown(s) and the associated economic and social impacts of these have had a noticeable influence on the mental health and wellbeing of parts of our population. In this presentation, we will focus on three key areas and local responses to these:

- Comparative spend on adult’s mental health services
- Demand for adult mental health services
- The positive impact of the Healthy Minds Initiative in providing a single point of information and accessibility to mental health services and early intervention support for those that live in the Bradford District and Craven.

Alongside this, the presentation discusses national legislative changes.

Recommended-

That

- Work be undertaken with the Wellbeing Board to Identify expertise in the field of Climate Change to sit on the Cultural Place Partnership Board to help us ensure our programmes of work and put the Sustainable Development Goal’s into practice.
- Two of the major ambitions within Culture Is Our Plan is Live life better & Creating an explosion of opportunity, both of these ambitions are heavily connected to the Wellbeing agenda. Support is sought on mainly around these 2 ambitions and both of these ambition are connected to the Digital Makers Project Live Life Better - The Bradford Cultural Place Partnership will co-commission a UK-first, ten-year study using the unique Born in Bradford data. Working with the team at Bradford Institute for Health Research, we will get a better understanding of people's engagement with culture. The study will give us evidence of the benefits of arts, culture and heritage to everyone's lives.

Creating an explosion of opportunity

Bradford Cultural Education Partnership will bring the District's independent cultural sector together with schools, with further and higher education and with the Careers and Technical Education Partnership. Working together, they will advocate for cultural and creative careers and maximise opportunities for young people across Bradford.

- Bradford Cultural Education Partnership will focus on creative digital skills with two major strands:
 1. Digital Creatives will introduce creative skills to secondary schools in support of Digital Makers, a programme to provide all young people in the District with digital skills. The initiative comes from Bradford Institute for Health Research, which is responsible for the Born in Bradford study of over 13,500 children born at Bradford Royal Infirmary
 2. Digital Storytellers will give families and primary-age children the opportunity to tell stories about the place they live and co-create a Bradford Curriculum

The Wellbeing Board support both of these outcomes and discuss where the board can connect , add value and help champion this work.
