

Appendix A

Response from Chief Superintendent McCoubrey

Dear Michael,

Anti-social use of motor vehicles across the District continues to be one of the most significant concerns for our communities. As District Commander for Policing in Bradford, I am fully committed to working with partners and communities to make the roads of Bradford safer for all.

The Public Space Protection Order, provides an additional tool for the partnership to tackle this issue and supports our commitment to Vision Zero. In the last 3 years the PSPO has provided Police and Partners with an opportunity to intervene earlier, with an additional enforcement tactic to our collective officers when dealing with the antisocial use of motor vehicles across the District.

I therefore welcome and fully support this application to extend.

Rob.

Chief Superintendent Robert McCoubrey
Bradford District Commander

Response from Alison Lowe, Deputy Mayor for Policing and Crime

Hi Michael,

Thank you for your email, as you are aware Mayor Brabin has launched her new Police and Crime plan which sets a bold direction regarding crime and community safety. During our consultation on the plan Road Safety was one of the top 3 concerns for our communities, so I very much support the Anti-social Use Of Vehicles' Public Space Protection Order (PSPO). I have seen the Steerside Partnership in action and welcome any enforcement which supports our zero-tolerance approach and reduces those who may be killed or seriously injured across the district.

Alison Lowe OBE (pronouns: she/her) | Deputy Mayor for Police and Crime
West Yorkshire Combined Authority | Policing and Crime Team